INTRODUCTORY NOTE

The tables in this release are based on the Department of State, Division of Geography and Cartography Release No. 112 (August 1944) entitled: JAPAN: TOTAL POPULATION, BY SEX, 1940 CENSUS, BY KEN, SHI, GUN, MACHI AND MURA. In the accompanying tables all machi and mura incorporated into shi are given in footnotes with 1930 and 1935 populations and in terms of the 1940 census areas.

From the data of these tables it is planned to release a series of seven maps, now in compilation, showing the density of population, sex ratio, and per cent change in total population 1930-1935, and 1935-1940 for both "urban" and "rural" areas.

For a brief discussion of Japan's population structure and trends, see the introductory comments in the earlier release mentioned above.

Acknowledgment is made to the Foreign Economic Administration, Far Eastern Enemy Division for assistance in the compilation of the adjustments in shi and gun areas as given in the footnotes.

March, 1945.

A variation exists in sources regarding the portions of Hiyoshi-mura in Tachibana-gun incorporated into Yokohama-shi and Kawasaki-shi. Toshi-Nenkan 1941 gives a variation in the area of Yokohama-shi as follows:

Summary figures for Ku - 403.25 Km<sup>2</sup>
Yokohama-shi total - 400.97 Km<sup>2</sup>

In order to check these two totals the individual figures (1935 areas) for the Ku of Yokohama (1940 area) are totaled plus 1.23 Km<sup>2</sup> (Tsumaki-Ku) and 6.21 Km<sup>2</sup> (Kanagawa-Ku). This total adds to 2.28 Km<sup>2</sup> more than the total area of 400.97 Km<sup>2</sup>, as used in the table. A total of 5.16 Km<sup>2</sup> of Hiyoshi-mura has been added to Yokohama leaving 4.64 Km<sup>2</sup> added to Kawasaki. Because of the conflicting totals it is not clear regarding the disposition of the portion (2.28 Km<sup>2</sup>) of Hiyoshi-mura to Kawasaki-shi or to Yokohama-shi.
